Patron sponsors Jake Meyer in charity K2 climb

Patron Capital, the pan-European institutional investor focused on property backed investments, is proud to be sponsoring Jake Meyer, who left last Saturday for the Himalayas to tackle K2, one of the range's most challenging climbs.

In 2005, at the age of 21, Jake became the youngest Briton to climb Everest and complete the Seven Summits challenge. He is undertaking the K2 climb in aid of Walking with the Wounded, a charity supporting vulnerable armed services veterans.

Keith Breslauer, Patron Capital's Managing Director, said:

"We are very pleased to sponsor Jake in this impressive feat which combines our passion for helping those who have suffered during active service and my own personal love of mountain climbing. We wish Jake all the best with his climb and hope that it will help raise significant funds for this worthy cause."
