Patron Capital shortlisted at Institute of Fundraising's National Fundraising Awards

Patron Capital, the pan-European institutional investor focused on property backed investments, has been shortlisted for Best Business-Charity Partnership, alongside its partner The Royal Marines Charity, at the Institute of Fundraising's National Fundraising Awards 2016.

Patron has been supporting The Royal Marines Charity since 2011, acting as a gateway to the corporate world providing ex-servicemen and women with valuable introductions, mentoring and work placement opportunities, to help them rebuild their lives following physical and psychological injury.

The Institute of Fundraising's National Fundraising Awards is a key event in the voluntary sector calendar, recognising fundraising excellence and best practice across the UK.

Keith Breslauer, Managing Director of Patron Capital, commented:

"We're very pleased to have been recognised for our partnership with The Royal Marines Charity, which demonstrates how businesses and charities can work together to achieve much more than just raising some cash and ticking CSR boxes."

"The Royal Marines face dangers and challenges most of us can't even imagine. Whatever the result of this award, it is a privilege to work with them and give something back for their commitment."
