Patron Capital shortlisted for Social Impact Award at EG Awards 2020

Patron Capital, the pan-European institutional investor focused on property-backed investments, has been shortlisted for the Social Impact Award at the forthcoming EG Awards 2020.

The Social Impact Award recognises businesses that have used their position and status to deliver a positive impact on society, through partnership, investment, pro-bono work or employee-led initiatives, in particular those that achieve a lasting impact and with the potential for wider application.

This shortlisting was in recognition of the role that social purpose plays in Patron Capital's investment decisions, its charitable activities – in particular its work with the Royal Marines Charity to support disabled war veterans and their families, and The Prince's Teaching Institute – and the work of the Women in Safe Homes (WISH) Fund. Believed to be the world's first gender-lens property fund, the WISH Fund was launched in November 2019 to tackle the lack of affordable, safe homes in the UK for vulnerable women at risk of homelessness.

The winners will be announced in a virtual ceremony on Thursday 29 October 2020. Judged by a panel of industry leading experts, the EG Awards celebrate the best of the property world, rewarding the success of companies and individuals both nationally and internationally.

Keith Breslauer, Managing Director of Patron Capital, said:

"We're honoured to have been shortlisted at the EG Awards for the fourth year in a row. We're committed to making a positive difference to society through both our investments and charitable efforts, and we're proud to have this dedication recognised."
