Patron shortlisted in the Global Investor of the Year category at the 2019 EG Awards

Patron Capital, the pan-European institutional investor focused on property-backed investments, announces that it has been shortlisted in the Global Investor of the Year category at the prestigious EG Awards.

The Global Investor of the Year category recognises businesses that have shown evidence of innovation, long-term thinking and future proofing. Despite political and economic uncertainties, Patron has continued to be flexible and innovative in its approach. Last year saw make several opportunistic acquisition and highly profitable exits, including the sale of its second-charge mortgage lending business, Optimum Credit, to mortgage lender, Pepper Money, along with its UK second charge loan book of more than £450 million.

This year, the EG Awards are focussed on celebrating the individuals and businesses at the forefront of innovation, showcasing those who have change the property industry and built environment for the better. The awards will take place on the 22nd October 2019 at Grosvenor House Hotel, in London.

Keith Breslauer, Managing Director of Patron Capital, said:

“We are proud to have been shortlisted at the EG Awards for the third year in a row. Throughout 2018, the team has demonstrated the strength of our investment strategy, using creativity and hard work to see potential and create value from investments that others might overlook. With impressive acquisitions, several highly profitable exits, and a continued effort to give back to charitable causes, Patron looks set to continue as one of Europe’s strongest investors”
